APPLE BRAND VALLEY OF MOON

Sonoma Valley Apple Growers Preparing Packing House To Begin Operations Soon.

With extra fancy Sonoma valley apples packed by the Sonoma Valley Apple Growers Association, and marketed under the attractive appellation of "Valley of the Moon Brand" this section promises to record a banner season in apples, for the new organization means business and bids fair to become a decided factor in the prosperity of our farmers.

The last meeting of directors and growers was held Thursday week and about twenty-five apple men of our valley were in attendance. It was decided to prepare the packing house at Battos Spur, where the 20,000 or more boxes of apples will be handled and shipped. Operations will begin in about two weeks and growers generally are very optimistic over the outlook for good prices and recognition of the best quality of fruit. Contracts call for the following varieties of apples: Astrachans, Alexanders, Gravensteins, Jonathans, Red June, Kings, Greenings, Bellefleuers, Spitzenbergs, Baldwins, Wageners, Hoovers, Newtowns and Rome Beauties in the production of which Sonoma valley excells.

The directors of the Sonoma Valley Apple Growers comprise the following well known ranchers of the valley of the moon; Messrs Geo. Cassidy, Henry Hyde, R. L. Watt, Fred Lowell, and Edgar Clements. Mr. Cassidy is president, R. L. Watt, vice-president and Edgar Clements is the secretary of the new and promising organization. All the leading apple men of the valley are signed up and will market their fruit through the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Lochiel M. King and family accompanied by Mrs. John Wadsworth who has been a visitor at their Alameda home motored up last Mrs. King and her two pretty daughters will spend several weeks here.

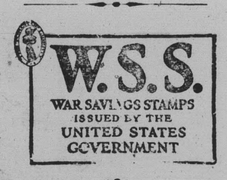
TROUBLE NEVER COMES SINGLE AS SHOWN BY FETTERS CASE

Troubles for the proprietors of Fetters Springs are gathering ever snce the Federal officers accusation of selling liquor to enlisted men became known, and on top of the indictments, R. P. Rowe, a neighbor of Mrs. Fetters has brought suit against her for $25,000, alleging slander. Rolfe Thompson is Rowe's attorney.

Nor is this all, Deputy Sheriff Murray also has threatened suit for slander, alleging that Emma Fetters intimated that she had given him $250 or some such sum of money which he says is false and without foundation. Mrs. Fetters is said to back up her statement with a witness to the transaction.

The Deputy Sheriff's wife and a number of prominent women including Mrs. F. T. Duhring, L. Green, Franquelin, Erazmus, Akers, Wagnon and others have been active with petitions asking that the liquor license at Fetters Springs be revoked. While manysignatures have been secured, by the ladies, they have also met with many refusals by those who do not believe that the Fetters case should be interfered with as it is in the hands of the Federal authorities and will be properly disposed of without local interference. There is also a decided opinion that the movement will serve as an entering wedge for the "drys" who will not stop at the Fetters license but will seek to close up every resort in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fetters have entered a plea of not guilty to the charge, pending in the federal courts and the case has been set for trial on August 6th.



Dr. and Mrs. Van Amringe and three children of Point Richmond are up in Geyserville on a vacation.

The C. R. Potter and E. E. Bennett folks and Steuart Rasmussen of San Francisco spent Thursday in Napa.

SERVICE FLAG FLIES JULY 4TH

Sonoma To Dedicate Emblem Next Thursday For Boys Gone To War.

Sonoma will celebrate the Fourth of July in the plaza by dedicating a handsome service flag to be presented to the community in honor of the boys gone to war from this locality. The flag is to be purchased by popular subscription and will be a beautiful emblem, expressive of the high regard of our people for our lads. The exercises will be held at 11 a. m. under the auspices of the Community War Council. There is to be an oration, music by the State Home Band, vocal solo, presentation and dedication of the flag and community singing. All the boys from the cantonments are urged to come home for that day if possible. All families of soldiers and sailors are particularly invited to be present.

ST. FRANCIS PARISH NOTES OF INTEREST

Mass at St. Francis Catholic church will be celebrated every Sunday during the summer season, until Sept. 1st, in Sonoma at 9 a. m. At Boyes Springs at 11 a. m.

The Mass offered up each Sunday at Boyes, will be offered for our soldier and sailor boys, that Divine Providence may guide and guard them to the end and bring them home safe and successful.

The Ladies of St. Francis are planning a musical and vocal concert in addition to the "film" at Boyes in the very near future. Miss Brendel, the young and gifted Prima Donna of Santa Rosa has volunteered her services and will attend to the details of the concert.

Further activities of the Parish are—Mrs. Richards, the genial hostess of the famous Agua Caliente Springs, with the assistance of her friends, expects to give before the end of the season, a benefit ball and concert for the Parish.

Rev. T. P. Moran has many friends throughout the county and in San Francisco and he is fortunate in being able to get much splendid talent and assistance for all affairs of the church so the benefits will be a decided treat and are bound to attract good crowds. Watch for the dates which will be announced later in these columns.

TANK UP IN EL VERANO? NO! TANK DOWN

Tanks may cause trouble in the war zone, but just at present there is a tank causing trouble in El Verano, where a fight is on to regain posession of a water tank whose dismantlement by a former employee of the Sonoma Valley Water, Light & Power Co. has made the consumers suffer in that locality.

Bruce Wetherhead had the tank of the company on his property and when he was displaced by a new manager, he decided to make things interesting for his successor. After interviewing diverse attorneys and determining his rights in the matter, he took down the tank and it is alleged stored it in his barn. The thirsty public, deprived of water and the company deprived of a tank, seek relief so far in vain.

The fine points involved in the action have puzzled the District attorney who believes a civil suit will be necessary to settle the matter.

Capt. Zachary and wife have beeu recent guests at the home of Mrs. R. J. Snyder. Since a prior visit the captain has been suffering from severe neuritis due probably to the great strain of a perilous voyage on his ship from Manila. The Zacharys went to Ukiah after leaving Sonoma and the patient is reported as improved since enjoying life in the country.

Adolph Lutgens, formerly of the Forum is now an employee of the Union Iron Works where he is installing lathes.

BATEMANS ARE 100 PERCENTERS

Former Sonoma Veterinarian Enlists Also Three Sons.

The following account of Dr. Bateman's patriotism will be of interest to many friends who knew the family when they resided here in Sonoma.

Said the Chronicle of June 19th concerning the present Berkeley residents: "All their uncles and cousins were in it, so when America went to war, the three sons of Dr. A. J. F. Bateman of 3001 Dana street, Berkeley, an English-born citizen of the United States, just up and enlisted.

Eric Macpherson Bateman is a private, first class, in the Grizzlies. Gurth Macpherson Bateman and Donald Macpherson Bateman are privates in Battery B of the 143rd Field Artillery.

Dr. Bateman is a cousin of Major General Sir Henry Macpherson, once commander of the British forces in India, and has sixteen cousins and uncles in the British and Canadian armies.

The father of the Bateman boys has been commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Veterinary Corps and is awaiting a call to the colors.

ON VISIT TO FORMER HOME HERE. DIES SUDDENLY

John Henry F. Thies, a retired cook, who at one time owned the Huddart ranch above Agua Caliente, came up from San Francisco with his son the first of the week to gratify an old wish, to see his former home. While walking up the mountain road he dropped dead. His son had taken a short cut to the ranch, so the father expired alone, evidently from acute dilation of the heart. The body was found by an employee of the Goldstein ranch and the son who thought his father had found old friends and had decided to remain over, returned to the city. Upon his arrival there he was notified of his parent's untimely end. An enemy alien card and the address, identified deceased. He was a widower, aged about 60 years.

He is now First Petty Officer, Right Guard of his squad and first class 3rd fireman. Lawrence is 22 years of age and is keen to serve Uncle Sam which accounts for his fine progress in the service.

The child welfare campaign opened very auspiciously and is still being conducted at the Womans clubhouse this afternoon.

NO "FRIENDLY" SUIT FOR BLAKEMAN

T. Z. Blakeman, the San Francisco Attorney who has a country home near El Verano and was made the defendant in a water suit, filed last week by J. K. Bigelow, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Blakeman maintains that no riparian rights are involved as the water comes from springs on his land and that the brook from which he named his place, is no carrier of water since it is dry most of the year.

Mr. Bigelow is said to have suggested "a friendly suit" some two years ago to determine the water rights of himself and Blakeman, but the latter said, any law suit over his springs could not be in the nature of a "friendly" suit and that it meant fight. He will seek to dissolve the injunction sought by his neighbor Bigelow.

Born and bred in Sonoma county, residing here all his life, Olney G. Pedigo, at present deputy county clerk, has announced his candidacy for the position of County Auditor at the primary election on August 27. Mr. Pedigo has many friends in all parts of the county who will rally to his support and who will give him all possible aid to insure his election, believing that his training and his knowledge along these lines have fitted him to be the right man for the place.

Mr. Pedigo was born at Stewarts Point, but early in life removed to Santa Rosa with his parents, the late E. M. Pedigo and Mrs. Louisa Pedigo. He has since made his home in Santa Rosa, but has traveled over the county many times so that his list of friends is a long one.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

The Voice of Reason Is Heard

FROM DIFFERENT quarters, despite the clamor and prediction that the avalanche of prohibition is to engulf the nation, it becomes apparent that people are waking up and sounding a note of reason, strong and clear which is bound to persist and will eventually lead to the undoing of cranks, agitators, hypocrites and misguided zealots.

From Wisconsin we read the following dispatch: MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 24—Archbishop Messmer has sent a pastoral letter to all clergymen of his diocese in which he forbids them assisting prohibition propaganda. The letter, in part, follows: "It becomes more evident from day to day that there is a strong sectarian power back of the present prohibition movement. We may not deny that many Catholics, priests among them, are actuated by good motives and acting in good faith in this matter. But they fail to see the absolutely false principle underlying the movement and the sinster work of the enemies of the Catholic church, trying to profit by this opportunity of attacking her in the most sacred mystery entrusted to her.

"For these reasons I positively forbid all pastors of parishes in this archdiocese from allowing any prohibition speeches to be given on any premises, be it the church, the school or a hall.

"On the other hand, this is a most opportune time to preach on the Catholic virtue of temperance, exhorting everyone to practice true moderation in eating and drinking, and even total abstinence from intoxicating drinks. "Prohibition is in no sense moderation; yet this is the true meaning of the cardinal virtue of temperance." The letter was read in Catholic churches yesterday.

From across the water, from Sunny France, a soldier of the Ambulance company, 167, 117th San. Train writes to the San Jose Mercury Herald these prophetic words: "You cannot imagine how time flies in this country. Only yesterday we left an Atlantic port and now I am wearing a stripe for six months overseas service. It seems I can still taste the brine on my lips from the spray that swept over the lower deck of the ....., and here I am fast becoming a connoiseur of vin rouge and vin blanc, the product of French vineyards. And by the way, that reminds me that right here I must make a remark that may sound like a sermon on temperance, but which has been on my mind since coming here, and which the good folks in the states should reflect upon and be prepared to meet in the near future. You may rest assured that after the war, the boys from over here are going to raise an awful rumpus should they find it impossible or illicit to buy an occasional glass of beer or wine. Hundreds, nay thousands, had never tasted a drop of "liquor" in their lives until they landed here. I know it to be a fact that not 5 per cent of these are on the water wagon now. We counted them the other day. We took a whole battallion, some 500 men. A careful check disclosed only four that had not been seen drinking a glass of beer or wine, (strong drinks are forbidden and cannot be had). Those who came here with the well-meant intention to abstain as they had had abstained at home kept away from the cafes for a week or two after arriving. Gradually curiosity or a desire to follow the crowd induced them to become acquainted with the pretty girl behind the buffet. They saw men, old and young, women, girls, children, around the little tables, sipping their wine or beer, and they wondered why they did not see any drunkards or hear any rowdyism. The people make merry, to be sure, but they could not begrudge them the few minutes a day wherein to forget their misery or the thought of the losses they had suffered in dear ones or property., And now most of these boys are faithful followers of Bacchus and Cambrius. When in their rest area they may be seen in groups of four or more seated around the carpet-covered little tables playing a game of hearts or pinocle the while humming a song that came wafting over with them across the sea, such as, "Joan of Arc," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," etc., and you would be surprised how familiar they are with the local "lingo" when it comes to ordering bourteille de brie or a verre de vin rouge, mademoiselle. I will not comment on the change of their feelings on the temperance question, other than to say that they are fast becoming convinced that a man who takes a drink is not necessarily on the verge of moral and physical ruin. You folks will have to reckon with this change when the boys come home. I mean that a couple of million young men coming from France with an "idee fixe" can exert considerable influence on election day."

Bending the Twig

Sonoma is one of almost countless communities which at the call of the nation is this week devoting its attention to babies and small children who are the coming material for a later citizenship in these great United States. We all recall the old adage, "as the twig is bent, so the tree is inclined" and this latest branch of forestry which has to do with the betterment of men and women through the proper direction of infancy is noble and important work. It is also of vast interest for we are in reality at work on the old problem of heredity which was a hopeless creed and accounts for much of past carelessness in the matter of rearing children. Now comes science and shows how minor physical defects and irregularities may be corrected in youth and may turn the entire course of the individual life whereas once, certain predelictions would have been set down to hereditary tendency and let go at that if there was the faintest chance to blame the fault on a progenitor.

Picking flaws in youth on a nation wide scale and correcting them is going to make for better Americans and is the greatest step toward efficiency yet. Not only will the individual profit and lead a healthier, more normal life, but that individual will be more prone to select a mate more intelligently and thus will come about, quite naturally, race betterment. There has been a lot of talk about eugenics and artificial arrangements, akin to this freakish plan of laboratory matrimony, but it seems now that we are working along saner, more natural lines in simply supervising the start the individual must get physically and mentally in order to absorb and acquire the best in life as he or she goes along. We have been paying a lot of attention to the betterment of environment, of conditions and atmosphere, and yet in a high percentage of cases the generations we were rearing to breathe this better air and avail themselves of improved conditions, did not profit by it as they should because there was a barrier—a defect, perhaps which kept the individual from coming into its own.

It has been a costly state of affairs. Our schools have cost more because of it, our public institutions have almost bankrupt the tax-payers, our hospitals have been sinecures for specialists and alienists, our politics have become barnacled with the most unaccountable and freakish ideas, our churches have been placed in the false light of hypocrisy, in short our conduct in spots has been almost grotesque and all because of neglect in our youth. Thanks to kindly Nature, the irregularities have been much in the minority and yet enough to make trouble, but now they are all to be corrected or at least a great part of them and by eliminating an adenoid, straightening a tooth, putting on a pound of flesh, massaging an ear, cutting out a tonsil, straightening shoulders and righting organs slightly out of plumb, we are well started toward a better race, a nation un-handicapped and free to develop to its highest capacity.

Praise the Lord the federal authorities have beat the reformers and Grant outfit to the discovery of alleged irregularities at a Sonoma Valley resort. If the law has been transgressed, the infractions will be properly dealt with and by constituted authority. The federal authorities work quietly and do things wihout embroiling communities in local rows and spreading broadcast scandalous reputation. We want no repetition of reformers methods in this valley.

CRUEL USAGE OF HORSES MUST STOP

A horse belonging to Joe Ryan was rented out to two youths from San Francisco last Sunday and while racing it with an automobile, the unfortunate animal dropped dead. The boys Ray Dougherty and Ed Bunyon are in the hands of the officers.

Five young would-be sports almost drove a horse to death last week and were fined $5 apiece by Judge Small. The Judge is determined to put a stop to cruelty to animals and will make future fines big enough to have a good disciplinarian effect.

Contractor R. E. Murphy is drawing plans for the remodeling of the attractive stone house on the Coops ranch which is to be occupied by Harry Coops and his attractive bride-to-be, Miss Dorothy Dobbel. The interior will be modernized and made most artistic. It will undoubtedly be one of the finest homes in the valley, situated as it is in the midst of the 100 acre orchard and commanding a beautiful view of the hills and Sonoma valley. It is the former Proletti place.

Deputy Sheriff Murray arrested Geo. Torazzo for speeding in a Ford last Sunday. The Judge fined the speed fiend $10.

CANADIAN SOLDIER'S MALIGNERS ARRAINGED

Editor Index-Tribune:

I just want to put the plain facts before the people of Sonoma Valley, regarding Sergeant Bury, the returned Canadian soldier, who spoke at the Flowery School on June 10th, and 11th, 1918.

In the first place Sergeant Bury did not give his talk under the auspices of the Red Cross, nor was it advertised as such, but what was announced at the meeting by the Chairman, with the soldier's permission, was that after the meeting, if the people wished to help defray Sergeant Bury's expenses, they could voluntarily drop any amount in his cap (which he placed at the door) as they passed out, and that he (Sgt. Bury) would donate one-third of what was so given to the Red Cross.

Secondly, Sergeant Bury is a real soldier, and a real man. He comes of fighting Irish stock, and the world knows what that means, and if he is straight-forward and very direct in his remarks, it is a good trait, for he places all his cards on the table at once, and withholds nothing.

He enlisted (N. B.) with the 24th Battalion of Canada, and was amongst the first of the Canadians to land in France. He was invalided home from the effects of gas, and was temporarily discharged from the Esquimalt Hospital, Victoria, B. C. in January 1918. He has had three brothers killed in France, and there are two others still with the Imperial Army, and one of the six brothers, four of them were volunteers. Sergeant Bury has worked for the Red Cross, and was with them during the last drive.

He had buoyed himself with great hopes of being able to pass the medical examination, pronouncing him fit enough to go back, but on Wednesday last, the 19th of June, the Doctor at the British Recruiting Office told him that he had failed fifteen pounds since his last examination, and that he was going to have a big fight to escape the "Grim Reaper" in the not too distant future.

Again, as regarding drink, he is entitled to drink when he pleases. There is no law in the United States or anywhere else, to prevent him from drinking, and the night that he is accused of being 'boozed up' I was with him myself. Fefore the meeting he had two high-balls on my advice, because the excessive heat had put him in bad shape. I can get a number of REAL AMERICANS to vouch for his entire soberness before the meeting started. After the meeting he had two more high-balls and some California wine, and was in bed in my home at 10:20 P. M., the meeting having closed at 9:45, so he surely had a wild and hilarious night.

He also donated $9.50 to the Red Cross, and his services free during the last Red Cross drive, which I understand is more than can be said of the persons who were responsible for his reviling in the Sonoma Expositor.

Everything that I have written above, are facts, and can be easily verified by referring to the British Consul, British Recruiting Office, and the headquarters of the Red Cross in San Francisco. Furthermore, I am writing this over my own signature.

I am not blaming the Editor of the Sonoma paper who published the accusation, for news is scarce at times, and I suppose he thought he was getting his information from a reliable source, but at the same time he was laying himself wide open for action for libel, and he should at least have found out whether his informants were willing to put their names to the article. Right here I want to state that the parties who were behind the article showed a rare streak of intelligence in not "looking before they leaped": in fact, it looks as if the Feeble-Minded Home is being cheated by leaving them at large.

It is commonly known that these people from their arm-chairs are more reliable sources of information about the war than a mere "soldier of fortune" who was "over there" and merely voluntarily offered his life to make it easy for such as they! Sergeant Bury came back a physical wreck: his mouth filled with gaping cavities the result of gas, and he cannot lay down to sleep during the night like you and I. He has to sit unright and rest as best he can.

Of course, he should not be respected, or be given due consideration for what he has gone through, because he has had a loss of three brothers, one of whom died in his arms, so he should come over here and speak in a mild way, and express his extreme sorrow if he injured the feelings of any of his audience.

Reverse the order of things, people, and put your boy, a U. S. boy, in Canada under similar circumstances: would you not want him to have a fair investigation before accusing him of the things with which Sergeant Bury has been accused?

One thing I want to be fair in: as far as I know, no person of direct German descent had anything to do with the article published in the Expositor.

Another thing, permission was asked for the use of the school, and in fact Sergeant Bury and myself rode from my store to the Flowery School with Trustee Wattriss, and in fact Mr. Wattriss himself offered to open the schoolhouse door the first night the soldier spoke, before he knew that I had another set of keys. He must haye enjoyed the lecture too as he put a half dollar in the cap himself.

Personally, I consider the attack on Sergeant Bury contemptible for that man was as surely fighting for you and I in 1915, 1916, and 1917 as he would if he were in the U. S. Army today, and when he is allowed to be insulted, it is shattering all tradition, as this is supposed to be the land of Hospitality. It is such as he, who have saved the lives of thousands of American soldiers by volunteering to fight when he did.

One other thing: Trustee Watriss came into my store to make a fuss, but he would neither make a direct accusation, nor would he tell me the names of anyone who had, he said, told him things, so rightly I gave him no satisfaction. Without doubt, the article in the Sonoma paper was the result.

I thank you.

R. P. ROWE.

Arthur Coops, one of our soldier boys now in France writes that he has traveled all over that beautiful country and is surprised at the forests, the parks and the very small farms which abound there. He speaks highly of the Y. M. C. A. comforts at the disposal of Uncle Sams men at all times.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon and several hours of pleasure will long remain in the memory of those who enjoyed Celia's birthday.
